THE TREASURY DEFICIT. Shows an Increase as Compared With the Same Period Last Year. The monthly comparative statement of the receipts and expenditures of the United States, issued yesterday by the Treasury Department, shows that during August the total receipts from all sources aggregated $25,562,096, and the expenditures, $35,-701,676, leaving a deficit for the month of $10,139,580, and for the two months of the fiscal year, $23,198,839, as compared with $13,113,854 for the same period in 1895. The expenditures last month were over $3,000,000 in excess of those for August, 1895.

The monthly statement of the public debt, issued from the Treasury Department, shows that at the close of business on Monday the public debt, less cash in the treasury, was $078,497,196, which is an increase for the month of $12,342,684, which is accounted for by the loss of nearly exactly that amount of actly that amount of cash on hand, due to the excess of expenditures over receipts.
The debt is recapitulated as follows: Interest-bearing debt, $847,364,260, debt on which interest has ceased since maturity $1,622,960, bearing no interest $372,856,376, making a total of $1,221,843,596. This amount, however, does not include $563,656,973 in certificates and treasury notes outstanding and offset by an equal amount of cash in the treasury.

During the war of the rebellion he served aboard the steamer Susquehanna and participated in the battle of Port Royal and other naval engagements, and was particularly mentioned for gallant and mertorious service in action. Since the war he was connected with several United states vessels. He was an honored member of the G. A. R., and his funeral was largely attended by his comrades. A detachment of regulars from Fort Myer served as a guard of honor, and the Marine Band furnished the music for the occasion. A large concourse of friends followed his remains to Courses; only a processory. remains to Congressional cemetery, where, draped with the flag he loved so well, his remains were laid to rest. Not Sold as American Beef.

According to United States Consul Johnson at Antwerp, there is no truth in the story which so excited American meat packers, to the effect that brokendown English omnibus horses are killed and packed at Antwerp as cannel beef under American labels. The consul reports to the State Department that he has made most careful irquiry and finds that while the English omnibus hacks do come to Antwerp in large numbers, they are slaughtered and sold for fresh meat and are not packed.
